Drayton Valley teen hero fights ISIS in Syria

Mamta Lulla
Western Review

Her desire to help took an aspiring paramedic across the world where she came face-to-face with the Islamic State on harrowing battlefields in Syria.

Shaelynn Jabs, at just 19 years old, found herself in Syria on a six-month tour that would see her lose hearing in one ear and bear witness to the everyday suffering of the Syrian people.

"I was watching a lot of the videos about the Islamic State beheading people and generally people losing their families and I wanted to make a difference," she said.

Jabs wanted to go to Syria after graduating from high school to help people there as a paramedic.

After about a month in Syria, she ended up fighting ISIS on the front lines, a decision she made herself because she saw a need.

"They were telling me there was no one on the front lines doing enough and people were dying while bleeding out and I thought if I was fighting at the front lines I could save someone's life. Because by the time people reach the hospital, there is very little you can do," said Jabs.

Her conquest started as she had set her heart on helping Syrians while still in high school. She started learning about bullet wounds and tourniquets by doing her own research and reading as she wasn't eligible for college just yet. While in Syria, she learned that the people there don't know a lot about treating the wounded.

"They are new to medicine. Not to say they aren't smart but they don't understand the real necessity. For example, if someone is bleeding internally, unless you are bleeding from a shot they don't really understand it's a problem," she said. "No one knows how to handle a shot there; they just wrap a bandage around it."

Her decision was not just hard on her, but her mother as well, who often went weeks without hearing from her daughter.

"I always knew from the moment I put her on the airplane that there was probably a greater chance that she wouldn't come home than there was that she would, and when I had those feelings, I prayed a lot. Lots and lots of praying," said mother Brenda Jabs.

Local teen has experiences of a lifetime in Syria

The 19-year-old was part of the Syrian Militia also known as the Kurdish People's Protection Unit that has a Women's Protection Unit (YPJ) that allows women like Jabs to stand up for women's rights.

"The fact that women were able to stand up for themselves was a big changing point for them and I wanted to be able to show them that there are other countries that care and wanted to support that," she said.

Jabs understands the value of life better now as she has seen so many lives being taken away.

"The only real way to survive there is to understand that you are not coming home because you see people die all the time. It's so easy. It's like a flip of a switch," she said.

There were times when Jabs along with her unit knew that death was close and they said their goodbyes to each other. Once, it was with five suicide trucks under attacks and they were going to hit the unit's location.

"There was no way we were going to survive five suicide trucks. So me and my friends sat down and said goodbyes because we thought we were going to die," she said.

Luckily, the trucks started dispersing and didn't hit the unit.

She also remembers doing other tasks that were difficult such as going to local villages and telling people that they have to leave their homes with their families.

"They are scared and you have to tell them they have to move out of their homes so you can have your people in there. It's really hard because that's all they have left. They don't have anything else," she said. "When you are in those villages, you get attacked and you see their homes being destroyed and that's all they have left."

Jabs said she believes that Syrians should be welcome in Canada because everyone deserves a safe place to live.

"I know people have different views that things can happen but nothing that can happen here can compare to what's been happening there. I have seen mothers and fathers lose their children and they just want to have a better life for them."

The 19-year-old is currently looking for a job and plans to go to medical school and be a paramedic but she also plans to go back to Syria again.

"Anybody that goes over there from whichever country, they are true heroes because majority of us couldn't do it. I can sit here and say I couldn't do it. I am not brave enough," said Brenda Jabs.

"Since I came back, I want to do normal things. I want to get a job and do normal things but my mind keeps going back to that. It's hard, because how can I live a normal life when they can't?" asked Shaelynn Jabs.

They wanted the duo to know how thankful they are for all the fighters that are helping Syrians.

Friends and family toast to the two local couples

Mamta Lulla
Western Review

Two couples in the same family celebrated their love.

Friends and family gathered for Ira and Evelyn Haight, who celebrated their 70th wedding anniversary and their daughter Darlyne and Terry Gavigan, who celebrated their 50th.

"We come from hard times to good times and I think hard times is what made us live this long," said Ira Haight.

Although the two couples' anniversary falls a week apart from one another, they decided it was time to celebrate it together and invite both sides of the family.

"He said "let's have a party," and I organized it. That's the way it works," said Darlyne Gavigan with a chuckle referring to her husband, Terry Gavigan.

There was some cake and plenty of hugs and kisses at the party on Apr. 17 for everyone at the Senior Citizens Club of Drayton Valley.

"There are rough spots, and there are good spots, but we tend to forget the bad things and remember the good ones," said Evelyn Haight.

Remembering the old times, Ira Haight said he misses being young, but together the couple have children, grand children, great grandchildren and great, great grandchildren as well.

Ira Haight met Evelyn over dinner and after he returned from the army, he decided it was time to get married to her.

"I was in the army with her brother and he invited me out to their uncle's place for Sunday dinner in Calgary, and she was there and that's how I got to know her," he said.

He often reminisces about Evelyn Haight's garden and the way she took care of all the children.

"I remember her washing dirty diapers because that's what they did at that time. She always had a good garden as well. I miss her garden," he said while adding that she still does garden.

Darlyne and Terry Gavigan lived in the same borough and that's how they met each other.

"Sometimes it's a challenge putting up with each other for that long but ultimately it's worth it," said Darlyne Gavigan.

The Gavigan's anniversary was on Apr. 16 while Haight's was on Apr. 23.

Change to Brazeau County Tax Due Date

Brazeau County has moved its tax due date to June 30.

To avoid penalty, taxes must be paid by that date, unless you are signed up for the Tax Instalment Payment Plan (TIPP).

The 2016 Combined Assessment Tax Notices will be mailed in mid-May.

If you are interested in the Tax Instalment Payment Plan, please call 780-542-777 and speak to Taxation Co-ordinator Colin Swap.

Is the Tax Instalment Payment Plan right for you?

Brazeau County provides the opportunity for the payment of annual taxes on a monthly basis.

For those who prefer to budget throughout the year, Brazeau County offers the Tax Instalment Payment Plan (TIPP). The plan allows property owners to pay their property tax in monthly instalments instead of a single payment each year. Payments are withdrawn from your bank account on the last business day of the month.

It's easy to sign up! The only requirements are that you have chequing or saving privileges at a financial institution (bank, trust company, treasury branch or credit union), and that you do not currently pay your taxes through a mortgage company Principle, Interest and Taxes (PIT) program.

If this program sounds like it fits your needs you can download the Tax Instalment Payment Plan application form from our website at http://www.brazeau.ab.ca/county-hall/corporate-services/monthly-payment-plan. Application forms are also available at the Brazeau County Administration Building.

For more information on our Tax Instalment Payment Plan, please contact our office at 780-542-7777 and ask to speak to Taxation Co-ordinator Colin Swap.

2016 Pitch In Program

It's once again time for community groups to 'Pitch In' to keep our community looking its best. Funding is available for all areas in the County and groups will be supplied with safety gear and garbage bags for the roadside clean-up initiative.

Those interested in participating must supply a letter of interest and fill out an application form by visiting Brazeau County office or visiting www.brazeau.ab.ca

WRSD contributes financially for Eldorado Elementary School's 100th anniversary celebration

Justine Klimoden Western Review

At the Wild Rose School Division (WRSD) board meeting held on April 19, a motion was made to donate $1,000 to Eldorado Elementary School for the school's 100th anniversary celebration. Decorations and food are just some of the items the money may be used for. The motion was carried. Eldorado Elementary School's 100th anniversary celebration will take place on May 7 starting at 2 p.m. which will include school tours, open house, and a formal program.

DIPLOMA RESULTS

WRSD Superintendent Brad Volkman reported to the division's board of trustees the result of the January 2016 diploma exams. According to Volkman, WRSD exceeded provincial averages in Chemistry 30 and English 30-1 while Math 30-1 results were significantly lower. Volkman also noted that "there appears to be a trend concerning lower Math results over the past few years." Due to this, Volkman said a group of teachers will come together to analyze the results of the Math diploma exams and hopefully come up with "ideas and best practices for teaching senior math."

2016-17 EDUCATION PLAN FOCUS

According to Volkman, the 2016-17 Education Plan will focus on five key things. The first focus will "implement strategies that foster student wellness." The second focus will "implement pedagogy that promotes student understanding of the link between lesson activities and the intended learning outcomes in all curricula." "Establishing a collaborative response model that identifies the needs of individual students" is the third focus. Having a deeper understanding of First Nations, Métis, and Inuit culture is the fourth focus. Lastly, WRSD wants to focus on developing and enhancing literacy and numeracy skills.

UNIVERSITY COURSES OFFERED TO GRADE 12 STUDENTS

A Memorandum of Understanding was signed by WRSD with Red Deer College to offer five university courses to the division's Grade 12 students in the 2016-2017 school year. "This will provide students with the opportunity to try university level courses and earn high school credits in the business stream of CTS, courses not often offered at our high school," said Volkman. "We also recently signed an agreement with Olds College regarding their Meat Cutting Certificate Program."

Did you support Mother Nature on Earth Day?

What is Earth Day? Celebrated every year on April 22, Earth Day aims to encourage people across the world to be more environmentally friendly.

This might mean increasing the amount they recycle, volunteering for a local green project or installing solar panels at their home.

The very first event for Earth Day, which was held in America nearly five decades ago following a devastating oil spill, is credited as the beginning of the modern environmental movement.

Since its launch, Earth Day has been supported by an array of famous faces, including Hollywood stars Leonardo DiCaprio and Emma Watson.

Cyclists demonstrated near the U.S. State Capitol on the first Earth Day in 1970 and now it's coordinated globally by the non-profit Earth Day Network, which describes it as 'the largest secular holiday in the world.'

Each year, festivals, parades and rallies are held in at least 192 countries to demonstrate support for environmental protection. The day has its own flag, which was created by US peace activist John McConnell and, perhaps unsurprisingly, features a picture of the world on it.

It also has its own anthems – one of which is performed to the tune of Beethoven's Ode To Joy, but with lyrics about protecting the planet.

This year, more than one billion people were expected to celebrate Earth Day.

Locally, Earth Day was celebrated in Drayton Valley with a number of events. Students from various schools were out in the community gathering garbage off the streets and from the parks, some practised yoga and others made sure to keep their lights off at night for a couple of hours.

With threats of global warming, erosion and pollution looming overhead, we should all do our parts in saving Mother Earth any way we can. Shutting down coal-fired plants, experimenting with wind energy or incorporating solar energy should all help to keep our earth in as good a shape as possible.

Eeeewww a spider!

Cathy's Comments
Cathy Weetman

I don't like spiders. Never have. Never will.

I'm not sure when this arachnophobia developed, but I've had it for many, many decades.

Back in 1978, (on April 18 to be exact) while I was working at the Stony Plain Reporter and driving back from Onoway, a small reddish brown spider was crawling up the steering column of my car, a Chevy Chevette named Sherman.

I am so afraid of spiders that as I was travelling east on Highway 16, I froze at the wheel watching this spider, and drifted off the highway into the right hand ditch. I probably could have stopped the car at that point, but I hit an approach road and drove part way up it. Coming down, only the two back tires made contact with the road and the car flipped end over end diagonally, with me in it, strapped into my seatbelt.

A truck driver stopped and called the police. I was basically unhurt except for a cracked thumb (it was wrapped around the steering wheel as the car jerked all over the place) and a concussion, where I probably lost 10 or more IQ points that day.

From the back, the car looked okay. The front was a different story.

I had placed a 20 pound bag of dolomite in the trunk of the car to give me traction in the winter. Before I left for Onoway, I took the bag out of the trunk then finding nowhere to put it, placed it back in the trunk again and drove off.

As the car was flipping end over end, the bag of dolomite flew forward out of the trunk, hit the back of the passenger seat, bent it downward at a 45 plus degree angle and then crashed through the side window. Had there been a passenger with me that day, that person surely would have been paralyzed or dead.

Since that accident, I have never seen a spider of that colour or species ever again, but that doesn't mean other kinds of spider don't scare me, because they do. I nearly bailed out of a boat on a lake near St. Paul that same summer because there was a spider in there with us.

At the Nature Play program on April 2, the participants were told to respect nature, including spiders. To me, the only good spider is a dead one, but I held my tongue. I had a black spider drop out of my hair the other day, and I freaked out and stomped on it. I couldn't help myself. Natural reaction. A few days after that, I felt something crawl down my neck and I freaked out again. To my relief, it was a broken hair elastic.

So if by chance, one day you see me frantically waving my arms in the air and jumping up and down, it could be one of two things – a spider jumped on me again or another hair elastic broke. Either way, please try not to laugh at me. That would just be adding insult to injury – even if spiders don't bite. But that's another story.

Opinion

Giving taxpayers more authority

A referendum is the action of initiating a vote on a single political decision which has been put to the public in the form of a question. Referendum is a tool available to governments that allows the taxpayer a chance to express their opinion on a specific issue or policy.

United Kingdom Prime Minister David Cameron has announced that on June 23, eligible voters will have the opportunity to vote on whether the U.K. will retain membership in the European Union or not. The E.U. is an economic and political partnership involving 28 European countries. The specific question posed to voters will be whether they want to be in or out of the European Union.

In recent years the merits of the United Kingdom's membership in the E.U. has been a very hotly debated issue. Prime Minister David Cameron has recognized that making unilateral decisions on this issue eliminates the ability for taxpayers to have direct input on a very critical issue. Cameron has called for this referendum despite the fact he has publicly stated he is in favour of remaining in the European Union. Ultimately through this referendum, the people of the United Kingdom will have the opportunity to decide what they feel is best for them.

Unforeseen circumstances such as world market conditions occasionally arise in the period between elections and require decisions to be made outside what was included in a government's platform prior to being elected. Unforeseen circumstances should never be taken as an opportunity to implement ideological or unilateral policies if the principles of democracy are to be respected.

Democracy is defined as government for the people by the people, in which begs the question, how can a government be for the people if you never ask the people the question?

The implementation of legislation establishing the essential democratic tools of citizen-initiated referenda and voter recall will allow the Albertans to be the custodians of the authority of government. Without consultation of voters, governments are unilaterally removing the authority that should be reserved for the people they are supposed to serve.

On March 10th MLA for Drayton Valley – Devon, Mark Smith tabled Private Member's Bill 201, the Election Recall Act, which is a step towards ensuring Albertans have authority when it comes to their elected members. The process of Recall outlined in Bill 201 is an arduous process designed to avoid any frivolous claims. Recall is a very good first step towards accountability and an even bigger step forward to putting the power back in the hands of the Albertans.

In a healthy democracy, ultimate power must always reside with the people. This can only be achieved if there are legislated mechanisms in place that allow Albertans the opportunity to recall their representatives and/or initiate legislation that their representatives are unwilling to bring forward.

Recall and Referendum ultimately give more authority to the Albertans when it comes to deciding what's best for them and their families.

The following article was co-compiled by a small group of Official Opposition MLAs who each week, get together to talk through a legislative policy issue. As part of the process, a short commentary is compiled and then edited.

Traffic funds can be accessed through grants

Bambi Lisle
Western Review

Town Council has adopted the Automated Traffic Enforcement (ATE) Fund Allocation Policy which sets the framework in which funds will be utilized to make for a safe and healthy community.

As outlined in the policy, funding received from ATE will be held in reserves and allocated to the Town's various initiatives and programs.

Funding through the Safe and Healthy Community Reserve can be accessed through a granting process.

Additionally, the policy provides for the allocation of the reserve funds as follows:

Up to fifty percent (50%) - Safe and Healthy Community Allocation;

No less than forty (40%) - Life-cycle Capital Replacement Plan; and

Up to ten percent (10%) - Participatory budget

"Following the policy first established when the Automated Traffic Enforcement Fund was approved, money from this fund can be accessed for projects that meet the goals of safe and healthy community initiatives," said Mayor Glenn McLean in a release.

TOWN AUDIT REPORT

An external audit concluded that the Town of Drayton Valley is in a "good financial position."

The Town has about $13 million dollars in cash sitting in reserves and a debt of about $24 million which is considered "well within limits."

The annual surplus is sitting at a negative two million dollars with a debt of about 32 per cent, which was deemed average by the auditor.

When compared to other communities, Drayton Valley taxes are higher because the assessments were higher, but not at the top when compared to other communities, said the independent auditor Phil Derks from Hawkins Epp Dumont.

COMMUNITY SERVICES

Town of Drayton Valley program manager Teresa Dunlop and her team talked about the various programs that they have been organizing in the community and the ones that are coming up.

Mad Science program had 14 students and tried to take in more students as the program was running successfully. A few other programs that ran since the beginning of 2016 include Strollercise at the Omniplex that got mommies involved in fitness along with their children.

There was Social Artworking, the Place, Yoga for kids etc.

Coun. Debra Bossert and Nicole Nadeau were pleased to see what the team had been doing in the community.

"You have shown us that we have invested well," said Bossert.

"There is not a demographic that hasn't been included," said Nadeau.

DOMESTIC VIOLENCE AND YOUR WORKPLACE

Pembina Crisis Connection Society coordinator Catie Hickman was at the Town of Drayton Valley council meeting and at the Brazeau County council meeting sharing information about a new program.

The program, which is a toolkit for businesses, helps employers and staff to recognize and respond to domestic violence at the workplace.

The toolkit is customized as per the business's size and needs.

"It's helping companies realize and help with problems that's always been there," said Hickman, while talking about how domestic violence can affect a person at their work.

RCMP need assistance from public with ground wire thefts

Cathy Weetman
Western Review

On April 10, RCMP were called by a passerby to investigate a suspicious man wearing only a Speedo walking down a road. He claimed he was waiting for his wife. The man was disoriented and needed help. RCMP took him to the hospital and he received the care he needed.

On April 14 at 5:10 p.m. a call was received from a resident in Tomahawk where he reported that his home was broken into. Someone stole his 2004 Dodge Caravan and tablet. The Forsensic ID section seized some items from the home, and the matter is still under investigation.

On April 14 at 10:50 p.m. a call came in about a possible impaired driver parked on 54 Avenue. The driver was still in the vehicle, which was not running, and the keys were not in the ignition. Police issued a 24 hour suspension.

On April 15 at 10:30 a.m. a call came into the RCMP detachment from Penn West Security advising that ground wire from seven of their sites was stolen. If the public knows anything about this crime, they are asked to contact Drayton Valley RCMP at 780-542-4457.

On April 15, around noon, RCMP received a call from a resident on 34 Avenue in Drayton Valley reporting that his black 2003 Dodge pick up truck was stolen. The vehicle was later recovered in Cochrane.

On April 17 around 11:30 a.m. police received a phone call from a business on 56 Avenue to report that the door had been pried open and three television sets were taken.

On April 17, police received a call reporting that a sea can located behind the Masonic Hall in Drayton Valley was broken into. It appears that nothing was taken.

On April 18 at 10 a.m. RCMP received a call from H.W. Pickup School reporting that over the weekend some rubber mats were stolen from the east side of the school. They are valued at $1500.

On April 18 at 3:45 p.m. RCMP received two calls from Vermilion Energy stating that ground wire was stolen. The matter is still under investigation.

Fire department set up landing zone for STARS

Justine Kimodan
Western Review

On April 18 at 11:22 a.m., the Drayton Valley/Brazeau County Fire Services crew were dispatched to 6412 Highway 616 due to a request to set up a landing zone for STARS ambulance. Two people were injured while unloading cattle gates off a trailer. The female patient was transported via ground while the 64-year old male was transported via STARS ambulance.

VEHICLE COLLISION

Fire crews were dispatched to a single motor vehicle collision on April 13 at 11:45 a.m. EMS and RCMP were also on scene. The patient was reported to have had a diabetic emergency.

GRASS FIRE

The fire department received a call regarding a small grass fire that was reported to be threatening structures at 49217 Range Road 81 on April 14 at 2:10 p.m. A small grass brush fire adjacent to the south parking lot of a commercial structure was reported. The property owner's employees were able to contain the fire. Fire crews extinguished the fire when they arrived on scene. Investigations revealed that the grass fire was started by sparks from a welder using a grinder on a flat deck trailer.

On April 17 at 12:19 p.m., fire crews responded to a grass fire in an alley at 5219 53 Avenue due to a bird electrocution in a high voltage power line. The initial assessment made by the fire department indicated a small grass fire along a chain link fence approximately 10 feet long. The fire was extinguished by the caller. The first responding officer on scene reported that the fire was out and there were no down power lines. The fire department received another call on the same day to a second location for a shed fire that started from the power line disruption caused by the bird electrocution.

TRAILER ON FIRE

The fire department received a fire alarm call on April 13 at 8:11 p.m. Fire crews responded to 34 Country Style trailer park and saw that nobody was home at a single trailer but saw light coming from the door. Fire crews made an entry and extinguished a small fire in the kitchen. The cause of the fire is still under investigation at this time.

FALSE ALARM

On April 14 at 1:38 p.m., the fire department received a residential fire alarm call at 4541 44 Avenue. When fire crews arrived on scene, it was found out that the alarm was set off due to cooking.

EMS ASSIST

Fire crews responded to a lift assist call on April 17 at 5:20 p.m. at 3902 47 Street. Fire crews helped EMS with transporting a 72-year old male who was having difficulty breathing.

VOLUNTEER FIRE-FIGHTERS APPLICATIONS

Starting May 1, the fire department will start accepting applications for volunteer paid on-call firefighters. The deadline for applications is set for May 31.

GOAT FARMING.....

We raised enough money last year to buy the farm implements needed to start the sustainable agriculture farm on the school site. By growing the food for the two meals a day instead of purchasing it, we will offset 40% of our operating costs. The school owns 15 acres so we can raise sheep, goats, chickens and turkeys as well as grow vegetables. We are using the expertise of the Government Agrologist in Ghana to help us with soil sampling and decisions regarding types of crops and equipment needed. Thanks to all of you and your generosity this is becoming a reality!! There is much to be done and we hope to include a fish pond to raise tilapia fish which has been successful other places. We are close enough to a river to bring in fresh water and circulate properly for healthy fish for the children.

FIFTH ANNIVERSARY OF SCHOOL OPENING; HALF WAY TO GRADUATION.....

Thanks to the generous donations last year:

1. We started the junior high school classroom building. When we visited in January it was 30% complete with the foundation and walls completed up to the lintel level.
2. We now have goats, turkeys and chickens on the farm with shelters for them all. The garden is producing vegetables and we are planting the third crop of corn.
3. The playground equipment is becoming a reality, just waiting for delivery from Accra
4. The grade five students are doing well with the government computers and we have the students at the school receiving two meals a day and an excellent education. 35 more students will be enrolled at nursery in September 2016 bringing the total to 309!!!

Sustainability is the goal!!

Thank you to everyone who has supported this project in the past. We look forward to seeing you again this year on May 23. Father Paul Mensah will be returning from Ghana with lots of stories and pictures to update us on this project.

Ringette Association wraps up year

Cathy Weetman
Western Review

Drayton Valley Ringette wrapped up a successful season with a supper and awards presentation at the Omniplex Curling Lounge on April 17.

Association president Stacy St. Louis welcomed players, coaches and volunteers to the wrap-up, and was followed by Sophie Mudry giving the toast to parents and Abbie St. Louis giving the toast to the coaches.

In her toast to the coaches, St. Louis stated, "None of you gave up on us. You wouldn't want your coach to say, "Well, we're done." Our coaches always had a positive attitude," she added. She also recapped the last eight minutes of a crucial Provincials game.

"Coach Ron called a time out and we all gathered around the bench. He gave us the most inspiring pep talk, and afterward we scored four goals in eight minutes. Thank you to all the coaches for being role models," added St. Louis.

Following the saying of Grace and the Athlete's Prayer, players and coaches enjoyed a pot luck supper. After the meal, coaches recognized their teams with medals and a Spirit Award to one recipient on each team.

Three of the teams - Drayton Valley U12 Riot, U14 Impact and U19 Velocity all made it to Provincials this season with varying results.

U12 coach Ron Mudry summed up the season and the struggle to get to the Provincials. He said that at the start of the season, the team had no goalies, so the girls shared goaltending as well as playing offensively and defensively throughout the season.

"We went into provincials in 10th place in the league, but we went undefeated in the Round Robin, finishing fourth in Alberta out of 37 teams," recalled Mudry, presenting the spirit award to Abigail Brown.

He also thanked the association president, coaches and volunteers. "We have a classy association and we're moving up in the ranks."

Coach of the Drayton Valley U 19 Velocity team, Kelsey Letendre, said, "We had a great year. We started out in the B Tier, combined the U16 and U19 teams. We could have stayed in the B Tier, but we went up to A and went into Provincials with five under-age girls on the team. We finished in fifth place, won the playdowns and made it to Provincials but didn't do quite as well as last year (when the team won Gold), but it was a great year," said Letendre, adding the Spirit Award resulted in a three-way tie. She added she wasn't sure whether there would be another U19 team next season because the majority of the players she has now are leaving the area for post-secondary education.

Association President Stacy St. Louis summed up by saying "I'd like to think it was a good year. We had three teams that could go to provincials. I think this is the first time that all three of our older teams made it to provincials," she said.

Team sponsors were also recognized for their support and generosity this season. Doug and Brenda Cathrea of Doug Cathrea Consulting Ltd, were thanked and presented with team photographs by the U10-1 Cheetahs, and the U12 Riot. The U10-3 Stingrays thanked Big West Machine & Welding for their sponsorship, and the U14 Impact team was sponsored by Reliance Well Servicing. There was no sponsor for the U19 Velocity.

Local rugby club hosts a try night

Western Review

The Drayton Valley Riggers Rugby Club hosted a Come Try Night for children aged five to 13 [illegible] April 11 at the Lions Park field.

According to Dustin van Staden, the club's youth development officer, the event's main purpose is to attract more children to start playing rugby and hopefully join the club.

"The whole idea is to get as many children as possible exposed to rugby," he said. "And then hopefully that will create more interest in the club as a whole and fill up our teams so we can start establishing a permanent team in town."

The event turnout was more than what van Staden expected.

"The try night was absolutely amazing. We did not expect the amount of numbers that we got. I think we ended up with about 70 players. Some of them were [illegible] and [illegible] along," said van Staden. "We took [illegible] handling drills for them to [illegible] an idea of what is going on and just have fun."

Rugby is a sport that can be played by the whole family.

"We are definitely doing it again," said van Staden. "The idea is to evolve it into a family evening where parents come along with their children and they can all play along. Everyone can play it from the youngest member of the family all the way to mom and dad."

The event was a great opportunity to [illegible]

"We had about [illegible] children signed up for rugby that night," van Staden said. "We also had a whole bunch of schools enquire if we can start rugby in the schools during their physical education classes. We actually started with [illegible] Elementary School already. The main idea is to get all the elementary schools in town involved, and then if it is at all possible, we would like to start up our own small league."

Anyone interested in checking out what the club is about or how to play rugby, can come out to the club's practices on Mondays from 4 p.m. to 5:30 p.m. at Frank Maddock High School and on Thursdays from 5 p.m. to 6:30 p.m. at Lion's Park. For more information contact van Staden at (780) 315-0536.

Volunteer firefighters answer the call every day

Where would you be without them?

Chances are our towns, villages, farms and small cities could be burned to the ground without the dedicated efforts of a group of community members. Who are they?

They are your neighbours, your friends, the local business owners, your husband, wife, sons or daughters. They have one thing in common—they are there to protect you when they answer the call—they are volunteer firefighters!

I signed up with Canmore Fire and Rescue six years ago," says Jason Lyon. "I thought it was the right thing to do—I believe in doing things for my community and my personality is that of a person who likes to get things done. I also like the excitement – every call I respond to is different."

Like all volunteer firefighters, Jason spends most of his time doing a regular job. He is the publisher of the Rocky Mountain Outlook newspaper that serves the communities of Canmore, Exshaw, Banff and Lake Louise. "I am fortunate that my employer, Great West Newspapers, supports my participation in the fire department. When a call comes in during work hours, I have to leave but I know the job of putting out the newspaper will get done."

At first there was some concern of a potential conflict of a news person volunteering as a firefighter but Jason separates his role as newspaper publisher and firefighter. He does not involve himself in any newspaper reporting—his staff do that. "I keep my mouth shut and let the professional reporters do the investigative reporting," he adds.

He recalls responding to the southern Alberta floods of 2013. "It was a major disaster and I had to be on the front lines. The staff at the Outlook responded by being the professionals they are and did the reporting and got the newspaper out."

"When I go on a call my family goes on a call," adds Jason. Being a volunteer firefighter requires strong family support and commitment. "Most often calls seem to come in during the evenings and at night. I may be watching a movie or playing soccer with my two kids and suddenly I am called away. My family has to support that and they do."

Commitment is necessary. The firefighters in Canmore train for three hours every week. Jason has also volunteered for the special operations team—ice, rope, and swift water rescue—which takes another evening each month. He responds to about 100 calls each year—that averages one call every three days while the Canmore Department responds to over 600.

The Canmore department assists in the area from Deadman Flats to the Banff Park area as well as Kananaskis and Spray Lakes.

Peter Krich, Canmore Fire Chief and President of the Alberta Fire Chiefs Association, says that Jason is just the kind of individual that makes our communities safe. Peter has been leading the recruitment program of the AFCA for the past several years. "Almost every fire department has a recruitment challenge, so we developed a program to help. It has been an overwhelming success and has been adopted nationally by the Canadian Association of Fire Chiefs," exclaims Peter.

There are approximately 13,000 firefighters in Alberta. Of those about 11,000 are volunteers. The remaining are fully paid full-time firefighters usually working in the bigger cities. There are volunteers from 16 years of age (junior firefighters) to the renowned 94-year old Walter Thomas who began his volunteer firefighter career in 1947 (he no longer fights fires but serves as the historian for the Fort Saskatchewan Department).

"Without the 11,000 volunteers, our small and rural communities would be in severe difficulty in dealing with fires. All of us need to recognize that and say a big thank you to them. We can also make a difference by volunteering too—help us answer the call!" concludes President Krich.

Provincial Court briefs

Standing room only at courthouse

Cathy Weetman
Western Review

Maybe it was the full moon affecting people, but it was standing room only at the Drayton Valley Provincial Courthouse on April 19 as all seats were taken in the courtroom with 30 people standing out side in the hallway.

Failure to comply results in fines

Jacob Brumwell was in court to answer to one count of Failure to Comply.

Court heard that on September 18, 2015, RCMP received a complaint of probable shots fired in the air at a local motor hotel. When police arrived, they found the occupants of the room acting suspicious and discovered a bag of ammunition in the room. One of Brumwell's conditions was not to possess weapons or ammunition.

After pleading guilty to the charge, Judge White handed Brumwell a $500 fine plus victim fine surcharge. He is to remain in custody on other matters.

Time to pay dues after stealing copper

Fredrick Beil told Judge White it was time to pay his dues after pleading guilty to stealing $1500 worth of copper wiring from the company he was working for and for failing to attend court after being charged.

According to facts presented, Beil stole the copper wiring in November of 2014 and made a promise to appear in court in January of 2015. When he failed to appear he was picked up by police on March 11 and spent 30 days in custody before appearing in court on April 19.

Judge White gave him 30 days in custody for the theft, of which the 30 days were served in pre-custody, giving him no more jail time. She also levied a victim fine surcharge of $100. For failing to attend court, Beil was handed a $300 fine and a $90 victim surcharge fine and gave him until September 6 to pay.

Man enters peace bond for uttering threats

Uttering threats has earned a man a peace bond for his actions.

Shane Seely pled guilty to a single count of uttering threats and was ordered to enter a $1500 peace bond, no cash. He is also to keep the peace and be of good behavior, appear before court when required to do so, report to a probation officer, attend any counselling or treatment as required, provide written verification of attending counselling and have no contact with his victim.

Man given fines for breaching conditions of probation

After being found guilty in July of last year for assault with a weapon, jailed and later placed on probation, Trevor Pretzer was back in court April 19 to answer to a charge of non-compliance to the terms of his probation.

One of the terms of conditions from July of 2015 was to report to his probation officer on a regular basis. He failed to do so, he had an fixed addressed and the voice mail box on his phone was full. On November 22 of the same year, an RCMP officer spotted Pretzer in a Drayton Valley bar, but when she went back to her cruiser to check for information about him, he had left the bar and was standing outside.

On the one count of failing to contact his probation officer, Judge White handed Pretzer a $250 fine and $75 victim fine surcharge and for breaching probation conditions, he received a $400 fine and $120 victim fine surcharge and given until October 4 to pay.

Two more names to be added to Legion Wall of Honour

Cathy Weetman
Western Review

Two more names will be added to the Drayton Valley Legion's Wall of Honour during a ceremony to take place on May 7 beginning at 11 a.m.

"We'd like as many people from the public to attend this event," stressed Frank Newberry, Service Officer and war veteran.

He added his greatest fear would be that only the families of the two honourees would be attending the event, and he doesn't want to see that happen.

"The two names will be the 35th and 36th to be added to the wall," said Newberry.

The ceremony will begin at 11 a.m. and will last for approximately one hour. Also on hand will be the Legion's padre to say a prayer and the Legion President.

Then Joseph said to his brothers, "Come close to me." When they had done so, he said, "I am your brother Joseph, the one you sold into Egypt! And now, do not be distressed and do not be angry with yourselves for selling me here, because it was to save lives that God sent me ahead of you. For two years now there has been famine in the land, and for the next five years there will be no plowing and reaping. But God sent me ahead of you to preserve for you a remnant on earth and to save your lives by a great deliverance. Genesis 45:4-7

This week we are continuing our chapels by looking at the life of Moses. In Exodus 18, Moses is an example of humility. This program is a full year where our athlete delivers monthly videos on important topics, such as, Goal Setting, Courage, Perseverance, Honesty, Healthy Living and many more. Students take part in a new challenge each month which they share with their athlete. Students also enjoyed an hour with Akeem and the Classroom Champion team in our classroom on Tuesday, April 19th. We played a game of soccer, had a nice visit and ended with his favorite snack, ice cream! Thanks to Penn West for their support in the program!

The Wildrose School Board and trustees officially opened the modulars with a ribbon-cutting ceremony on Tuesday, April 19. They thanked the students and staff for their patience and ability to adapt during the construction process.

We are VERY proud of Mr. Naugle and our students who performed at festival. On Monday April 11th grades 5's & 6 performed mime skits and short plays at music festival. Then on Thursday the 14th, the grade 1's sang Blackbird, grade 2's sang Tomorrow and grade 3's sang Count on Me. In total they received 14 gold and 1 silver. Great job every one! Congratulations to all of the performers!

AFTER GLOW

I'd like the memory of me to be a happy one.
I'd like to leave an afterglow of smiles when life is done.
I'd like to leave an echo whispering softly down the years.
And have it full of laughter instead of silly tears.
I'd like to know that those I love recall my life with joy
Instead of dwelling on the sorrow when I said goodbye.

MISSING YOU

You can shed tears that he is gone or you can smile because he has lived.
You can close your eyes and pray he'll come back or you can open your eyes and see all he's left.
Your heart can be empty because you can't see him or you can be full of love you share.
You can turn your back on tomorrow and live yesterday or you can be happy for tomorrow because of yesterday.
You can remember him and only he's gone or you can cherish his memory and let it live on.
You can cry and close your mind, be empty and turn your back or you can do what he'd want, smile, open your eyes, love and go on.

Forever loved and missed.

ADVERTISING WORKS

6 reasons why you should advertise in your local newspaper

1 CREDIBILITY
Polls show people believe newspapers offer the most believable advertising. The offer is there to be read over and over again. It doesn't [illegible]

2 ASSURANCE
Our newspaper circulations are verified and audited. Readership verify that an ad ran as scheduled. They have tangible proof that their ad reaches the audience. Radio and TV can't offer this tangible proof.

3 PERMANENCE
Newspapers allow readers time. Time to digest and consider an advertising offer at their leisure. Consumers need not be in the right place at the right time to see or hear the advertiser's message. Studies prove that our papers are kept longer than a week and are read by more than one person.

4 LOCAL COVERAGE
Newspapers occupy a unique position in reader's lives. Newspapers contain news on local people and events, while providing the most reliable source of in depth coverage of everything, including what businesses are offering this week.

5 ECONOMY
Cost per thousand is very competitive, but the results of good newspaper advertising are the best measure of its benefit.

6 LOCAL INVESTMENT
No other medium can compare to newspapers in service to the local community. An advertising order is an investment by the advertiser in the community.

The Market you are looking for is reading the same paper you are!

SUDOKU

Here's How It Works:

Sudoku puzzles are formatted as a 9x9 grid, broken down into nine 3x3 boxes. To solve a sudoku, the numbers 1 through 9 must fill each row, column and box. Each number can appear only once in each row, column and box. You can figure out the order in which the numbers will appear by using the numeric clues already provided in the boxes. The more numbers you name, the easier it gets to solve the puzzle!

Malone Clinic like a family to doctors and staff

Cathy Weetman
Western Review

Malone Clinic Office Manager Heather Barrett likes her job, so much so that s\-\- has stayed at it for the past 26 years.

Barrett started a nursing career then a position for an assistant office manager at the Malone Clinic came up. She started working there one to two days a week while her children were just seven and 12 years old. Eventually she worked at the clinic four days a week and then exited nursing to work there five days a week, having been promoted to Office Manager.

"I haven't looked back since," quipped Barrett.

"When you work at a job you really love, it's easy to stay. We don't have a high staff turnover. If people leave, it's usually because of something personal. We make sure all the staff gets flexibility with hours, duties and vacation. Some of our girls have worked here for 18 years. They are second to none. It is truly a remarkable place to work," she adds.

Barrett's responsibilities at the clinic works out to a long list. She schedules the front office staff making sure all positions are covered since most of them are trained to cover for one another, and schedules the doctors at the clinic, some of whom alternate days or weeks.

"They come to me for everything. We have 12 women here – some of them are right hands and some of them are left hands. They come to me for building issues, doctor issues and complaint issues. Before the main server site was moved to Calgary, she was also responsible for entering codes into the system. The coding duty now belongs to a computer savvy doctor at the clinic. At the same time, when the patients information system went paperless, four of the front office staff took it upon themselves to scan and shred three file cabinets' worth of patient files.

"It took them six months to do, but they finished and there's a lot more space in the office now because of them," notes Barrett, who also colour codes the main folders for various sections of health care, including surgeries, baby visits and company health and driver examinations.

Barrett recalls when she first started working at the clinic, Dr. Michael Peyton was (and still is) her "go to" guy.

"I call him my Henry Kissinger because he's the one who taught me how not to get excited over little things. "When he was sick and in the hospital for several months about two years ago, I would drive to the hospital in Edmonton where he was, and his wife (Dr. Ros Beacom) and I would meet at a table to discuss business and pay bills to keep the clinic running. A few years later, when I was doubled over with pains, my husband put me in the car and took me to the clinic where Dr. Peyton helped bundle me up and took me into the clinic."

"Unlike other places and hospitals where I've worked, the doctors at Malone Clinic prefer to be called by their first names. One doctor thanks us every day for coming to work. The doctors buy us lunch once a week and the front office staff also gets together once a week when we go out for wings. I am so proud of them I couldn't ask for a better team. They all get along so well with each other. I don't think I could have stayed in this office as long as I have without their support. I feel very fortunate. They're a true team," says Barrett.

Barrett also has nothing but good things to say about the patients who come to the clinic. Staff and doctors receive gifts of all kinds at Valentine's Day, Easter and particularly at Christmas, where they have to set out an extra table in the office to contain all the homemade items they are given including buns, main dishes, desserts and other goodies.

"I don't think I'll ever retire," notes Barrett.

Local administrative assistant to celebrate ten years

Justine Kimoden
Western Review

Drayton Valley/Brazeau County Fire Services administrative assistant Carla Appleby will soon celebrate her 10th anniversary as a staff of the Town of Drayton Valley.

"I have been working with the town as an administrative assistant for 10 years as of May 11," said Appleby. "I love working for the town. I had such a great opportunity to work with such great people in the community and to meet and work alongside them. They have mentored me including Nessen Naidoo, Manny Deol, and fire chief Tom Thomson, who is pretty awesome and a great role model."

Appleby started working as an administrative assistant for the town office right after high school and then later on applied for a position at the fire department.

"When I graduated high school, I started off at the front desk of the town office doing utilities so that requires taking payments, greeting the public, cutting off water bills," Appleby said. "And then the fire department administrative assistant retired so I applied and I got it."

As an administrative assistant for the fire department, Appleby is responsible for a variety of tasks including scheduling and organizing events.

"I do the invoicing for the fire department, minute-taking, scheduling, reporting for the incident reports," she said. "I also do a lot of public stuff like fire prevention programs and events that the fire department puts on. Anywhere from emergency services ball to our hockey tournament to our fire prevention month to awards night and all those summer barbeques."

Appleby said one of the challenges she faces as an administrative assistant for the fire department is juggling multiple tasks at once, there is always more than one thing going on at once.

"There is always going to be challenges but I think that we always figure them out together as a team when they approach us. "I would say we have a great structure in our organization".

However, Appleby said the people she works with makes it all worthwhile.

"I love my job. It is not necessarily what I do but it's who I work with. I work with some great people. It is kind of a brotherhood here so it is nice. I have about 50 older brothers or so," she said. "I really like the people I work with and I think that the fire department would not be as good as it is without everybody that is a part of it. I think we are a big puzzle and I am just a piece of the puzzle that goes together."

Support staff at RCMP detachment appreciated

Mamta Lidla
Western Review

Administration staff at the Drayton Valley detachment do everything from being the first point of contact for people who call and come in and help out police officers by taking complaints.

"They are the first people you will see at the detachment. They are the front counter. So just with that it can be taking applications for finger prints, it can be for a collision, it can be for even statements for us, or any type of complaints and then referred to the members," said Sgt. Chris Delisle in a recent interview.

The Drayton Valley RCMP detachment has a total of six admin support staff that have various tasks and duties to perform for the members every day. Two of the six are new additions to the detachment and one of the six staff members is a court liaison.

"We do everything from answering the phones, dispatching, creating files, taking complaints at the counter, filing and other duties as assigned," said admin assistant and a public service employee Angie Spence.

The support staff also helps members with investigation and filtering the important information so they are not wasting their time.

"We get everything first and we start building some of the paper work for the officers so that when they get it, it's already gone through a filter so they get the most important data," said assistant dispatcher and municipal employee Samantha Halford. "We also support them with investigation."

Members are happy with the work the support staff does at the detachment.

"They perform other administrative duties also such as ordering light bulbs, paper, some equipment; they are a vital part of the detachment. Very pleasant team that we have," said Delisle.

The team also knows how to work with the Canadian Police Information Centre and other programs used at the detachment.
